Bread Prices Up 3-4c As Subsidy Off

Newmarket—The "little woman" is going to pay as much as four cents a loaf more for the bread which her family consumes as the result of government action in lifting the subsidy of $1.10 a barrel on bread flour. The increase will be effective immediately in some cases.

The subsidies came off at midnight on September 14 and their removal will have far-reaching effects in the livestock, poultry and other fields, but it will be the housewife who will feel the pinch first. The manager of one chain store said all ten-cent loaves in his store, with the exception of malt loaves, would go up immediately to 13 cents and cheesebread would go up from 11 to 15 cents.

"The cottage loaf, malt bread and rye bread are remaining at the regular price at the moment but I have been instructed to accept our bakers' authority to raise the price at any time and I am expecting a phone call at any moment," he said.

Miss Margaret Riddell said the price of Riddell's bread would go up tomorrow. R. Broadbent, proprietor of Broadbent's Bakery, said he did not sell bread but that he expected to have to raise his prices for both plain and fancy rolls as soon as his present supply of flour is gone. "The increase will probably be about five cents a dozen on both varieties," he said.

Harold Ghent, manager of the Newmarket District Co-op, said there had been a run on flour at his store and that he had sold 90 bags between 8.15 a.m. on Monday and 4 p.m. on Tuesday. "I did not raise the price of flour until Tuesday," he said. J. A. Perks, owner of Perks' Feed Mill, said he does not handle bread flour. "I had a small amount of cake flour on hand when the subsidies were lifted but there was only a relatively small increase on that and my supply was sold before prices could be raised," he said.

AURORA CHIEF FOR TEN YEARS R. TUSTIAN DIES

Aurora—Funeral services were held on Sunday for Richard Tustian, Wells St., one of Aurora's most respected and best known citizens. In his 77th year, he had been in ill-health the past 14 months.

Born at Snowball, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tustian and came to Aurora at an early age. He was for 38 years employed with J. Fleury & Son and was also engaged in the building trade. A member of Aurora I.O.O.F. No. 148, he was past noble grand and held a 50-year membership jewel. For ten years he was chief of the Aurora fire brigade as well as serving as a member for many more years.

He was a member of Aurora public school board for four years, being chairman the year John G. McDonald was engaged as principal. In politics he was a Conservative and was actively engaged on behalf of the late Col. T. H. Lennox in many campaigns. He was a member of Aurora United church.

He is survived by his widow, and four daughters, Mrs. W. G. Hopkins (Letoille), and Mrs. Charles Rowe (Muriel), Toronto, and Mrs. E. Petrie (Audrey) and Mrs. Harry Borden (Olive), Aurora, and one sister, Mrs. Charles Bodfish, Aurora.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. R. F. Hicks, and pallbearers were Orlie DeLaHaye, Albert Newton, Walter Cole, Stewart Patrick, Charles Harman and Ted Anderson. Interment was at Aurora cemetery.

MUSIC CLUB CONCERT

Aurora—On Friday, Sept. 26, the Aurora Music club will enter its second year of activities with a concert in Aurora United church. "Singing Stars of Tomorrow" program last spring.

FIRE IN TIRE OF OIL TRUCK ENDS COUNCIL

Newmarket—For the second week in a row council proceedings were interrupted when Councillor Frank Bowser, who is also a member of the Newmarket fire fighting brigade, leaped to his feet to answer the call of the fire whistle. This week, however, fellow councillors controlled their desire to join him and completed the evening's work before hiking for their own cars and heading in the direction of the "five shorts."

At the foot of Ontario St. they found the firemen pouring water into the rear tire casing of a British-American oil truck driven by M. J. Watson, Barrie. The truck was said to be carrying 2,000 gallons of gasoline at the time.

According to Ivan Burke, who was sitting on the porch of an Ontario St. home, the truck drove up to the oil depot to unload. The driver saw the smoke coming from a flat rear tire and turned and extinguisher upon it. Unable to check the flames, he returned to the wheel and drove the truck farther down on Ontario St. away from the tanks. In the meantime, Burke and some others rushed to his aid with buckets of water.

A woman companion of the driver who had been sitting in the front seat of the truck, was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Egnat Zogolo where she was treated for nervous shock by Dr. G. M. Peever

TO MEET SEPTEMBER 25

Newmarket—The regular monthly meeting and annual election of officers of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, branch 119, Canadian Corps Association, will be held Thursday, Sept. 25, at 8 p.m. in the club room, Main and Millard Sts. All members are asked to bring a prospective member.

Memorial Property To Be Purchased

Newmarket—The first step toward a war memoral was taken at the meeting of the Newmarket town council on Monday night when a motion was passed to expropriate the property "in connection with the vote on April 7". According to the motion, expropriation proceedings are "to be immediately proceeded with".

On Monday, April 7, the ratepayers of Newmarket voted on the question, "Are you in favor of the acquisition of property and the construction thereon of a municipal auditorium as a war memorial and for the issue of debentures for the payment of the costs to the town thereof?" Three hundred and two people voted in favor of the proposal while 265 voted against it. The total constituted a 37.4 percent vote.

Because of the slim majority and the fact that those in favor constitute a small minority of the eligible voters, no action was taken by the council until Monday night when Mayor Joseph Vale broached the subject.

"We have a majority of those who voted in favor of the proposal but we had a vastly greater number who showed no interest," he said. "I don't feel that we can approach the industries and ask them for the amount of money which they offered toward the project when that was the result of the vote. I feel that we should take steps to acquire the property so that, if at a later date the town wants to proceed with the erection of the auditorium, it can do so. Then the property will belong to the town until such time as it makes a decision about what it wants to do with the land."

"Would that be fair to the present property owners who, when the vote was taken, were told that a memorial audtiorium would be erected there in case a majority were in favor?" Reeve Arthur D. Evans asked.

"In any case, where there is a legal majority, it carries the election, even if the majority is only one vote," Councillor H. J. Luck said. Mayor Vale said he did not feel that the council could ask the industries to provide 50 percent of the funds for

Three Escape Car Fire As Taxi, Model T Collide

Three persons were injured and a 21-year-old model T Ford coupe was destroyed by fire Saturday night in a collison between an automobile and a taxi on Yonge St. at the railway subway just south of Aurora.

The injured were Wilfred Cox, 23, Gormley, fractured collar bone, his wife, severe cuts and bruises, and Earl Scarlett, 38, Aurora, a fractured nose and a broken knee cap.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox's two children, Carol, 4, and Marilyn, 3, miraculously escaped injury when the four of them, all riding in the 1926 coupe, were thrown through the roof of the car by the impact of the collision.

Police said Scarlett's car, a taxi cab, ploughed into the rear of the Cox coupe. The Cox car was propelled 30' up the highway by the crash then swerved 20' up a bank on the east side of the road. It up-ended on its radiator and burst into flames like a crashed airplane. The Aurora fire brigade was summoned but the old coupe was a complete wreck. Had not the Cox family been thrown clear, police say they might have been seriously burned.

Scarlett is said to have driven a further 800' north on Yonge St. He then got out of his taxi, made his way further north and off the highway on foot. Police found him 45' off the road. He had been drinking, police allege. He was taken to York County hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox and the two children were taken to their home in Gormley by a passing motorist, Bob Benson, King. Provincial Traffic Officer Ted Craig, who investigated, said he would confer with Crown authorities regarding the laying of charges against Scarlett.

A. E. WEST TO MARK 90TH BIRTHDAY TUES.

Newmarket—A. E. West, who was born in King township and has lived in Newmarket for over 60 years, will be celebrating his 90th birthday on Tuesday, Sept. 23.

Mr. West was in business on Main St. for 50 years in what is now Mitchell's barber shop and has always been a highly respected citizen. Of a quiet and unassuming nature, he is still active and has retained all his faculties. He has a wide circle of friends both young and old.

His wife, who was Emily Norris, predeceased him 12 years ago. His family are George of Midland, Bert of Toronto, John and Ang. and Mrs. F. W. Bothwell, all of Newmarket.

On Sunday, a family gathering will take place at the summer home of his eldest son, Bert, at Orchard Beach, Lake Simcoe. All the children and a number of grandchildren will be present.

COUNCIL RATIFIES P.H.N. APPOINTMENT

Newmarket — Among the motions passed by the Newmarket town council on Monday night was one confirming the arrangements made by the department of veterans' affairs with Town Engineer Denne Bosworth. "We believe the roads which the D.V.A. has laid are up to our town standards, and we are willing to take over as soon as the water mains are installed, if the water mains are laid according to town specifications as discussed and agreed upon between Mr. Bosworth and the department," the motion read.

Other motions passed were to ratify the application of Miss Clara Kittmer for the position of public health nurse; to have the Town Clerk pay $2,176 to Tom Birrell for a new fire truck and $500 to the recreation council as the 1947 grant. A resolution introduced by Mayor Vale and passed by the council refunded to the Canadian Legion $30, which was the legion's share of a $200 license fee collected for the carnival held at the Stuart Scott school grounds in May. The rest of the license fee was paid from the funds of the carnival.

A by-law was passed selling lots 41 and 42 on Wesley St. to Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Wrightman for $150. The by-law contained the provision that a $2,500 house must be built on the property.

MISS JANE COLLARD

Aurora—The death occurred at Newmarket on Monday of Miss Jane Collard. Miss Collard was in her 88th year and had resided here the past 25 years. She had been in ill-health the past year. She was a member of Aurora United church. She is survived by one brother, Elijah, of Aurora. Rev. R. E. Hicks was in ducted by Rev. R. E. Hicks, charge of the funeral service on Wednesday. Interment was at Tottenham.

VETS VS. LANGSTAFF IN RUBBER MATCH

All eyes will be turned on Aurora town park on Saturday night when Newmarket Vets and Langstaff start their "feudin' and fightin' and fussin'" on even terms to decide the North Yonge championship and the possession of the Joe Spillette trophy. "Ceegars" McDonald and his Vets have come from behind and now feel confident of taking the honors. With Bill Bowen finished from pitching duties in Toronto, and rested for four days, Fred. Morris thinks his lads can take it all. The fixture will go nine innings, and gets underway at three chimes. The Hatfields and McCoys had nothing for rivalry on these two clubs and the biggest crowd to see a softball game in Aurora should be on hand. (See also page 10).

ICE FAMINE BRINGS HALT TO DELIVERIES

Newmarket—Last week dealers stopped delivering ice in Newmarket and Aurora and many housewives are faced with the problem of empty ice boxes. The supply of natural ice has been used up by hot weather and it is impossible to get artificial ice sent in. From all reports it is the same throughout Ontario.

Garnet Fairbarn, who owns the only ice business in Newmarket, has been as far away as Georgian Bay and Buffalo trying to get artificial ice shipped in by freight car. All the artificial ice plants find it too difficult to supply their own customers without taking on further commitments.

Mr. Fairbarn and Bob Case, dealer in Aurora, sell natural ice during the season. When the summer ends the supply runs low and the ice that is left in the store houses is melted into a single block. It is almost impossible to cut it out for delivery.

By September it was necessary to buy artificial ice from plants out of town. This month has been one of the hottest Septembers in history and the demand for ice has been prolonged. Last weekend, Mr. Fairbarn and Mr. Case took an extended trip trying to find an ice supply but couldn't find enough for a truck load. In Owen Sound, they said, people were lined up for a block at the ice plant. They tried in New York City and Buffalo but found no possibility of getting ice shipped in.

W. J. Geer of Geer and Byers, who used to be in the ice business, said the sale of electric refrigerators has been great, but in spite of this, he had heard that artificial ice plants in Toronto increase their business every year. He said that the ice business is not an easy one to be in. The work involved and the problem of supply don't make it an enviable job. Toronto artificial plants won't send ice up this far and the local dealer has to truck it up himself, he said.

Mr. Fairbarn said that he has done his best to get ice but you just can't get it.

New Parking Law Out, Will Enforce Old One

Newmarket—The sound of the fire whistle hastened the adjournment of the Newmarket town council meeting again on Monday evening, but not before the proposed parking by-law amendments had been withdrawn. Had they been passed, the amendments would have allowed unlimited parking on Main St. except on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays when parking would have been prohibited on the east side from Water St. to Queen St.

The proposed amendments were brought in several weeks ago but were met with strenuous objections. Minor changes were made and the by-law was read for a first and second time. It was read for a third time a week ago but the fire whistle blew, adjourning council before a vote could be recorded.

Chief objection to the amendments was that the town was unable to provide sufficient alternative parking space and that drivers would be forced to park on private property. Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette also argued that transient trade would be dangerously affected.

On Monday night Mayor Joseph Vale said the amendments had been withdrawn with the consent of Councillor R. C. Morrison, chairman of the police committee, which had introduced the amendments. "However, I have issued instructions and in future Chief Constable Ronald Watt will see that the old by-law is strictly enforced. The old by-law was passed on May 7, 1942, and Clerk Wesley Brooks has informed me that the department of highways has approved it," Mayor Vale said.

The by-law 823 limits parking to one hour and prohibits double parking. "We should provide other parking space before we restrict the parking on Main St., Councillor Bowser said. "The bulk of the summer traffic is over now anyway." Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette said that it was his opinion that Widdifield Park was the solution to the problem and suggested that enough fill should be put in the park so that temporary ramps could be constructed and the lot used for parking. "It will be a year or two after the fill is put in before it will have settled enough to be used for parking," Councillor H. J. Luck said.

Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette suggested that the bottom might be taken out of Fairy Lake by a sand sucker and used as fill, but Councillor Bowser said the cost would be prohibitive. He said the town was obligated to keep the pond in operation for the Office Specialty, but unless something was done, the sediment in the bottom would be level with the cement wall in two or three years. Mayor Vale said the town was not in a position to drain the lake. At the suggestion of Reeve Arthur D. Evans, a committee consisting of Messrs. Bowser, Luck and Spillette was appointed to investigate the Widdifield Park situation and also the possibility of changing the course of the creek so that less fill would be required there and less damage would be done to buildings through erosion.

One of the more important clauses of the old by-law is couched in general terms and would appear to give the police the power of discretion even when parking is not specifically prohibited. It prohibits parking on any street "in such a manner as to obstruct the ordinary traffic or for an unreasonably length of time having regard to the traffic requirements of such street".

Begin Health Unit Talks Seek More Information

Newmarket—Preliminary discussion of a proposed health area to include 14 municipalities featured a meeting of the Newmarket Board of Health on Tuesday morning. Dr. L. W. Dales, M.O.H., voiced what seemed to be the unanimous opinion of the board when he said, "We should be willing to join in discussions of the proposal but we want to know more about the cost to Newmarket and the benefits which we will derive before we make any decision." Mayor Joseph Vale said he would try to arrange a meeting between the county council, the board of health and some representative of the provincial department of health in order that all the ramifications of the proposal might be brought into the open.

Dr. J. Gordon Cock, chairman of the board, said that in his opinion the theory behind the proposal was sound and that the area "has to come sometime. There will probably be laboratory facilities available in connection with the plan too". Mayor Vale said an area would be an aid in forcing the inspection of premises believed to be unsanitary because a person residing outside of an area in which the premises were located would not have the same feelings to deter him should such an inspection appear necessary.

Dr. Dales said Ontario has the best health set-up in the world as it is and could not get better results from local laboratory facilities than are already obtainable from the centralized provincial laboratories. Mayor Vale said the project was past the discussion stage and that the county council was anxious to have action. Dr. Cock said that if the Newmarket Board of Health did not agree to the area, Aurora would probably be made the headquarters.

"I think that if we cannot get the area centralized here, we would be foolish to go into the area because we would get about one-quarter the service we are at present getting at only a slighly smaller cost. According to the information we now have, there would be eight nurses to serve the 14 municipalities, we would not have a medical officer of health or a public board of health," Dr. Dales said.

Mayor Vale said he believed the nurses would be stationed according to population and that Newmarket would probably have a full-time nurse under the system.

NO CONTEST

Rain halted last Saturday's post-season game between the "oldtimers" and the Newmarket junior baseball nine. One innings had been completed when the downpour came, the juniors taking the lead with three runs. The "oldtimers" checked in with a single tally.

THREE CARS COLLIDE TWO IN HOSPITAL

A collision involving three cars occurred in the Queensville flats on Sunday sending two people to York County hospital.

According to Constable Joe Jardine, John R. McLean of 253 Woodside Ave., Toronto, was travelling toward Newmarket following a line of traffic. When the traffic slowed down he applied his brakes. His car swerved to the left and collided with a north-bound car driven by Thomas H. Gardener, Bradford. The Gardener car was turned completely upside down. The third car involved was driven by Gordon Leyden of 31 Woodside Ave., Toronto, and was following the Gardener car.

Miss Ada Gardener and Mrs. H. F. Gardener were both injured and taken to York County hospital where Dr. L. W. Dales attended them.

On Monday afternoon Dr. Dales said that Mrs. Gardener had had facial injuries and a possible fractured skull. Miss Gardener had injuries to the elbow. Mr. Gardener was treated for shock.

Plan Revised License Law 'Strictly Enforced'--Vale

Newmarket — Mayor Joseph Vale told the Newmarket town council that a revised by-law governing the issuance of licenses would be up for discussion at the next regular meeting, and that, if passed, the by-law would be strictly enforced in future.

The mayor said his decision was based on a report which he requested several months ago and which was read several weeks ago by Clerk Wesley Brooks, concerning existing by-laws governing licenses. In the report, Mr. Brooks said the by-laws governing licenses had been passed in 1891 and had only been enfocer in rare instances since.

Mayor Vale compared some of the license fees mentioned in the old by-law to those which are in effect and enforced in Barrie. "It is time we brought our by-law up to date and began to enforce it," he said. "According to our present by-law, the theatre license is $75 a year, but according to the clerk $38.40 was collected here as the license fee on one occasion, and nothing has been collected since. In Barrie, where a new by-law was passed in 1946, the theatre license is 25 cents a year for each seat in the theatre. If this were applied to Newmarket, the license fee would be over $100 a year.

"In Toronto recently, a number of restaurants have been closed because of unsanitary conditions. The city was able to close them by cancelling their license to operate, but we would be unable to close an unsanitary restaurant here because they are not licensed. Plumbers have no license either, so that they can get away with inferior workmanship and nothing can be done. In Toronto, a plumber's license can be cancelled if his work is not up to standard. Licensing is the only way we can exercise any control."

GARAGE ENTERED

Mount Albert—Goods amounting to approximately $1,500 in value were stolen from Morton Bros. Sales and Service garage in Mount Albert on Thursday night said Constable Joe Jardine, Queensville. The break-in occurred bewteen 11.30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 11, and 6.30 a.m. on Friday.

Among the articles stolen were about a dozen radio sets, around $200 in cigarets, over $40 in cash and a quantity of record players, said Constable Jardine. A car also stolen has been recovered. Police are still investigating.

Water, Sewers Ordered For Future Street

Aurora — With what will be Kennedy St. East when completed, deeded to the municipality by Lorne Cousins, Aurora town council on Monday night provided for the installation of sewers and water, with materials to be ordered immediately. The new street extends west from Edward St. to Wells St., but will be eventually linked directly with Yonge St.

Purchasers of lots in the new sub-division requested these municipal services and the local improvement levy will apply. The new sewer line will be linked with the south end of Wells St. which, owing to its position, can not now be served by the present sewer system.

WEEDS CONTINUE AS TOWN PROBLEM

Newmarket — A discussion of the weed situation ensued at the meeting of the Newmarket town council on Monday night when Councillor Frank Bowser inquired concerning what the property committee is doing about weeds. "I have had several complaints about them," he said.

Councillor H. J. Luck, a member of the property committee, said the committee had been unable to do anything thus far because of lack of man power. Reeve Arthur D. Evans suggested that the men employed by the road and bridge committee should be leased for a while to the property committee, but Councillor Frank Bowser said the men could not be spared. "We have only three men on the payroll now, and they are all badly needed by our own committee," he said. "This year both the fixing of the race track and of the well were done by the road and bridge men, and they are things that we have never had to tackle before. We are behind schedule now because of them. If the men are put to work clearing weeds, they cannot also fix the roads, the sewers, and the bridges."

"The fact is that there is not much incentive for the private land-owner to clear his weeds if the town land is covered with them," Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette said.

"It would take two or three men six weeks to clear the town land of weeds in the ordinary way," Councillor Bowser said. Mr. Luck said there was also the problem of knowing what was town land and how far it extended. Mayor Jos. Vale suggested that the property committee go out and either hire the required number of men, or else get some one man with a mower to cut the weeds. Councillor Bowser said Ralph Smith had cut the weeds on the roads with his mower, and recommended that the property committee try to obtain his services.

"We must clean our own backyard before we can exert pressure on others," Mayor Vale said.

MORE PARKING SPACE THE ANSWER

After battling objections on the town council, and contending with the fire whistle which showed an annoying tendency to ring two Mondays in a row in the midst of the argument, Councillor R. C. Morrison has withdrawn his proposed amendments to the traffic by-law. Mr. Morrison might have prevailed over the Doubting Thomases of the council but the fire whistle is an antagonist of another sort. The two became an unbeatable combination.

Seriously, however, the withdrawal of Mr. Morrison's amendments is the wisest course. He proposed that unlimited parking be permitted on Main St. except on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays when no parking would be permitted on the east side of Main St. from Water to Queen Sts. The problem of enforcing such a law alone makes it impractical.

We doubt if Mr. Morrison believed that the amendments would be accepted. He brought them forward in response to the repeated demands from other councillors that "something be done." Their inadequacy demonstrates quite well that nothing can be done on Main St. to relieve the congestion, short of widening it.

Main St. is sufficiently travelled to make it necessary to completely prohibit parking during business hours except for delivery vehicles. It is equally obvious that such a move is impractical until there is sufficient alternative parking space to take care of traffic. That was the second of Mr. Morrison's accomplishments through his amendments. In the argument they precipitated, the need for more parking space was given much needed publicity. More concrete than the publicity, however, was the insistence of Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette that the preparation of Widdifield Park as a parking lot be hastened. For its importance, the filling in of the park has gone much too slowly. With the appointment of a committee to enquire into the job, there is hope for progress.

It would be folly to expect Widdifield Park to contain all the cars that come to town of a Saturday night. Supplementary parking space is needed. Councillor Frank Bowser suggests using the memorial auditorium property and in that, he deserves every support. If Newmarket is to properly accommodate its out-of-town customers, Mr. Bowser's suggestion must be acted upon.

But what is perhaps Mr. Morrison's crowning glory is that through his efforts, though indirectly, the existing traffic laws are now going to be strictly enforced. In that, the traffic law has something in common with the law on the use of sidewalks by merchants for display space. A harsher law had to be introduced before there was any definite declaration of enforcing the existing laws.

It does seem like going about law enforcement the hard way.

PLAYGROUNDS IN AURORA

"Public liability" is a bugbear for every municipal council. Visions of citizens suing the corporation for a fare-ye-well must haunt the dreams of all councillors judging by their tender concern for anything that threatens their immunity. And while the threat of public liability offers the soundest of excuses for doing nothing in some instances, in others, it is used to avoid doing anything.

We offer these observations by way of noting that in Aurora, Councillor Thomas Swindle has refused to let that ol' debil public liability stop him in his thumping for playgrounds for children. Some weeks ago, a playground was proposed for Aurora town park. It was rejected because there was no one to exercise supervision and the corporation would be liable to injury on the playground equipment.

With public liability barricading his path in one direction, Mr. Swindle chose another direction. He is currently collecting funds for a playground on private property, land owned by Mr. Erle Quinn on Tyler St., and meeting with "enthusiastic success."

Mr. Swindle is convinced of the need for playgrounds for younger children. He puts his convictions quite simply: "Traffic conditions in this area are very hazardous for small children playing in the streets. Why wait for a tragedy. Let us do something now." Mr. Swindle and those associated with him in this venture are anxious to purchase needed equipment without delay. They ask immediate response to their call for funds. Aurora citizens can show their interest in the safety of their children by contributing sufficient funds to ensure not only the success of the "Pansy Hill" project but playgrounds in other parts of the municipality.

NEW WAYS OF SUICIDE

We had thought we had seen everything that a driver could do on a highway but driving north of Bradford on Saturday we saw a new way to court disaster and sudden death from behind the wheel. A trailer-transport was plugging up one of the hills on No. 11 highway with a string of cars behind it like the tail of a kite. Our car was third in line.

Somewhere behind us, an impatient driver pulled out on the right-hand side and raced up the shoulder of the road, narrowly missed the ditch, and succeeded in passing the truck. Two others followed suit, their cars rocking on the edge of the ditch and scraping by the others as they sped uphill. A fourth car attempted it and piled into a ditch at the brow of the hill as the transport swung inwards to avoid an oncoming car.

There were children in the ditched car, fortunately none badly hurt. The driver was cursing the stupidity of the truck driver who, he said, was the one at fault. The accident was typical, it seemed, of that impatience, that lust for speed that causes otherwise normal individuals to lose all sense of discretion when at the wheel of a car.

No one gives a hoot if a man wants to risk life and limb. But surely there must be some way of pounding into such, a sense of respect for the life and limb of others.

DOOR-TO-DOOR MAIL DELIVERY

Some months ago, the Canadian Legion clubs in this district passed a resolution asking that door-to-door mail delivery be initiated in small towns as a means of providing employment for veterans. Nothing has been heard of the report since it appeared in the press and so it is safe to assume that it has been filed and forgotten, either at the head office of the Legion or the head office of the postal department.

If that truly is its fate, it is unfortunate. The suggestion had considerable merit. It is a curious state of affairs but it happens that many farmers on rural postal routes far distant from town receive better mail service than the townsfolk. Some rural residents get mail delivered to their doors.

The recommendation was two-fold in its intent. Primarily, it was a means to provide jobs for veterans. Two or three letter-carriers in towns of five or six thousand population add up to a lot of letter carriers. It would be excellent employment for veterans whose war experiences may have incapacitated them for indoor work or heavy outdoor labor.

At the same time, door-to-door delivery for large towns is a reasonable demand as a public service. The days when the post office was only a block away for most of the people it served, have long passed in many centres. A trip to the post office from the outskirts of town has become a major journey. The public is entitled to better consideration than that. Mail delivery would also end the congestion in post offices at noon or at 5 p.m. when everyone tries to get his mail at once.

It might be objected that the Legion recommendation is just an attempt to get jobs for veterans at the public expense, that the proposal is not economically sound. Perhaps. But such criticism could be better levelled at the staffs maintained in Ottawa in offices of far less value than daily mail delivery. If postal delivery costs too much, our suggestion is to make up the difference by reducing costs in other offices, particularly the information services which daily send out reams of publicity material of no value whatever, but adding extra burden to the mails.

MOVEMENT TOWARDS DECENTRALIZATION

For over a year, we have subscribed to a semi-monthly publication called the Interpreter. The four-page paper is the organ of a movement whose members call themselves "Decentralists." They believe that the concentration of people into the cities is an unhealthy course; they urge the decentralization of business and homes as the alternative.

In some respects, the editors of the Interpreter seem to have anticipated current events. The atom-bomb, for example, has provided a very good reason for the decentralization of population and industry. Economists, too, look with jaundiced eye upon the further concentration of heavy industry into already large centres because of the higher cost of taxes, labor trouble, and the general frustration which seems the lot of the urban-dweller, and which in turn affects their efficiency on the job.

While concerned with these tendencies, however, the Interpreter has wider scope to its belief that city-living is not fruitful in happiness and achievement. The Interpreter argues that the dependency upon others for goods and services that is a part of city life destroys initiative and individual enterprise. There is no home, in the real sense of the word, in a city flat, the editors argue, and prove the argument with an impressive array of statistics on everything from a falling birth-rate in the cities to the growing number of divorces.

The Interpreter wants a return to the land, the re-establishment of the home as a living unit, the revitalizing of household crafts such as making bread for the household instead of buying it from the baker. They advocate improved farming methods, the use of modern equipment to lessen the toil and improve the product. And for every argument, they cite case histories or from their own experience to prove the value of what they say.

Decentralization, as encouraged by the Interpreter, cannot be dismissed as a "back to the land" movement. If it were so, it would have long ago died a natural death. The Interpreter goes far beyond the "joys of nature" in its advocacy. Its argument might be simply put as this: Life in large centres is not normal. It encourages political, economic and social evils. It destroys individual independence. Normal living can only be attained through a return to the family life, family accomplishment and family independence.

It's curious that what has long been advocated as a return to normal living is being given impetus by the development of new methods of destruction and the accomplishments of "unnormal" life in the cities which have resulted in highly efficient machinery for making life on the farm easier. Without the products of modern manufacture from the cities, the hope of decentralization would be empty.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

Start to School at 7.50 a.m.

Time-table for buses serving Bradford high school next term are announced in the Bradford Witness, showing that one bus starts at 7.50 in the morning to reach Bradford at nine. That's a very early hour to start out for school, and allowing the bus to leave the school in the evening at a reasonable time after four, the students will do well to be home in time for six o'cleck tea, especially in winter season. We still do not understand why so many are enthused about large high school areas that leave very wide-open spaces without a school.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

OUT OF EGYPT (CONT'D.)

In these chaotic and unpredictable days we hear of vast numbers of homeless people, men, women and children, forced from those homes by religious intolerance by political prejudice or by the uprooting of war. Wandering in search of a place of refuge—a place where they can find surcease from fear until "the tumult and the shouting dies".

This sad flotsam and jetsam from "man's inhumanity to man" had a holy and a wonderful prototype nearly 2,000 years ago in a little family that travelled from Judea to Egypt to escape the wrath of a king that, for wickedness and utter cruelty could compete successfully with Hitler and his like. In his own time his deeds were as spectacular as those of Hitler. They only lacked Hitler's scope of influence to equal or surpass him. In one point Herod out-Hitlered Hitler for I never heard that Hitler murdered his own family as Herod did in his grim determination to keep his kingdom his and his alone. And it was the fear of a rival king whose birth was disclosed by the Magi that led to one of his more ghastly crimes—the murder of the infants of two years and under in the region where the Magi went to pay homeage to the Son of Mary and from which Herod's own greatest Biblical scholars foretold the Messiah would come.

But just as Joseph was saved from his brothers and Moses from the fate of most Isrealitish children in Egypt, just so the Holy Babe, the Wonder Refugee of the ages was saved by his foster father's vision from Herod's vengeance.

During the war years, the French women and children and old folk, fleeing before the advancing Germans, used whatever means of locomotion they could procure—old horses and boats, wheelbarrows and baby carriages—anything that would aid in their retreat. And so Joseph, in his hour of need, procured a humble donkey and on it the blessed mother and Babe journeyed into that land of mystery, of pyramids and tombs, of many gods and history—Egypt. What would that mother's thoughts be? Looking back at the annunciation, the angelic chorus and the adoration of Magi and shepherds. it must have seemed a strange and senseless proceeding to flee from the land of which her Son was to be the Saviour—and why into Egypt?

Language, customs and above all, religion were utterly different and yet she and Joseph had to live and guard the Wonder Child of the ages. But problems can usually be solved. We all know how quickly strangers coming to our land master our language—a great deal more quickly than we who study a foreign tongue in our own home land. Then the holy family were not penniless—they had the gold brought by the Magi and also Joseph was a carpenter. This, in a land of builders such as the Egyptians were, was an asset of no mean worth. One can imagine the Christ child playing on the sands of the Nile, perhaps seeing the glorious lotus flowers—He may have thought of them when He said "Consider the lilies". He would play with the Egyptian children and always, in His after-life, would be the thought of mighty lands beyond His own small home land.

And always, in Egypt and after His return to His own land, there was the teaching of His mother. That she was a poetess we know by her beautiful song, The Magnificant; that she was a woman set apart for a great mission we know by the angelic salutation. The mother of such a Son would have to be fitted to lead her Baby's steps in the path He was destined to tread. He came out of Egypt a happy, loving and beloved little boy with a world as full of hate, of fear, of intrigue and poverty as is our world today. He grew up a student of His country's literature and traditions; He saw the abuses that attended the religion of His races. He saw that religion was dying of starvation—its priesthood using it for political purposes instead of for service. He saw, as only He could see, what it would mean to the world if the belief in one God perished.

Like all the great men of whom I have written in these articles, He had vision and courage, but unlike them, He had no advisors, no assistants, no subordinates to whom He could look for advice or aid. Most of the great men of all time controlled armies ready to obey their commands, had chiefs of staff to help plan and execute their plans. Christ, although he could have had 12 legions of angels, had to educate His ministers, plan His campaign and go alone to His death.

Henry Drumond wrote "love is the greatest thing in the world" and it was love personified in Christ that fired the hearts of 12 men so that they changed the course of history.

Our great men all chose as their leaders and ambassadors the most highly trained and educated men at their command. Christ did not choose Nichodemus or Joseph of Arimethea or the rich young ruler to carry His Gospel. He chose Peter, unstable, a liar and a deserter of what he considered a lost cause; chose him and changed him into a rock of steadfastness and loyalty. He chose John because John had within himself the seeds of a love more nearly Christ-like than any of the other disciples and He chose Paul who had fought against His doctrine and His followers and turned him into a fighter for Himself with a zeal unequalled in the history of loyalty. And these men and their fellow disciples were able to lay the foundation of a church built on Christ's Gospel of love. They underwent every persecution, every trial and every temptation known to those who opposed them, yet they were never conquered. Why has the banner of the cross still power to draw men to fight for the souls of their fellows? The banners of Caesar, of the Pharoahs of Alexander and Napoleon have crumbled into dust but the banner of Christ glows irridescent against the blackness of a world filled with fear and distrust. Why? I think because Christ laid down a few rules—those contained in the sermon on the Mount and the Golden Rule and we know that they are basic—if we stick to them religiously, nationally and personally—we are happy people.

Today we are beset by ideologies that it's a wonder we are not all psychopathic cases. It has been said that man is the product of his environment. Is he? Paul wrote his greatest letters in prison in an enemy country, so to speak; Bunyan wrote Pilgrim's Progress while in prison and these are only two of many but these two influenced the lives of thousands in their own time and ever since and not because of their environment but in spite of it! If some of the statesmen of the present day countries could clothe themselves with Paul's faith in his cause and Peter's zeal and fearlessness, they might find that just in proportion as they were working for the god of mankind, they would be penetrating the iron curtain of prejudice just as Paul did.

I do not believe in appeasement. Christ never appeased—He told the truth about evil and the doers of it, as did St. Paul, but we are told "the truth shall make us free". The child that came out of Egypt revolutionized the world; we still have the means He used but we seem to have lost the magic of the God-given fire that inflamed Daniel and Moses and reached its crest in Christ, the God-man.

It has always been in time of deepest need and direst darkness that a great leader arose. Our times are dark enough—can we look for such a one?

the auditorium "when the majority of the taxpayers have indicated no interest in it. If we were paying the whole amount for the auditorium we might be entitled to go ahead because of the legal majority. I think we should acquire the property for another council to deal with."

Councillor Luck said that in his opinion the fact that such a small majority was in favor of the project and the additional fact that such a poor vote was recorded, was because the proposal had not been placed before the people in such a way that they understood all of its ramifications.

"We should take the projects slowly, step by step," Councillor Bowser said. "The first step is to acquire the property. It can be used as a parking lot until it is possible to erect the building."

"It is to be financed partly by debenture issue and we will have to apply to the municipal board for a dispensation of the vote. The board will probably conduct a hearing for the protests," Mayor Vale said. "However, if we don't get the property now, we will never get it. It is my idea that we should get the property and let another council deal with the hall."

"It will be a bad breach of faith if we do not do it," Councillor Luck said. Deputy-Reeve Spillette said that in view of the present situation, a discussion of modifications of the expropriations might be in order. "At present, the plan calls for the expropriations of some of the land belonging to Geer and Byers, and such a course would be too bad if it were unnecessary. They have spent a lot of money on that property."

"Let's get the property and next year's council can go again to the people to get a better authorization for expenditures on a memorial hall," Mayor Vale said.

NEWMARKET HIGH-LIGHTS

By ELAINE ROBINSON

I feel fortunate to have the opportunity to bring to you week by week the current happenings at Newmarket high school.

First of all a few points on what to expect from this column.

Each week I hope to have a complete line on all our school sport events, for this season, volley ball and rugby. These will be going into action in a week or two, we hope.

We also have a literary and athletic society at our school which sponsor our dances and bring basketball competitors from our nearby towns. As yet these two organizations have not been formed this year but we hope to have our nominations and elections in two weeks.

Last year the Lit. had a dramatic club but so far this year we do not know whether this will be carried on until after the new executive have their first meeting.

Class and inter-class debates were carried on which were interesting and on timely subjects. I do not know whether there will be the same this year until after the executive meeting.

Nominations and elections for these organizations will be getting underway soon and I will keep you posted on their results. The above, if all goes well, will be a weekly feature in this column.

School Attendance

Many people have been inquiring about the attendance of our school this year. Mr. Lockhart said that there were approximately 375 students which is an increase of 25 over last year.

If there are any questions pertaining to our school activities I would be glad to accept them and answer them as best I can through this column.

I will appreciate the help of any students who are interested in this column to bring me any news they pick up around the school.

Come on, kids, let's get together and find news to present to our readers!

- Around Town -

About the men and women you meet around town almost everyday.

Dorothy Bowman's amazing versatility and effervescent personality, her almost superhuman passion for work and her infallible sense of humor continue to astound her acquaintances. Dorothy is athlete, home-maker, teacher, mother, philosopher, writer, pianist and play director and critic all rolled into one and her sound sense of judgment is universally recognized.

She was born Dorothy Muir in Indianapolis, Indiana, 37 years ago, was educated at public and high schools there and then proceeded to Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio, majoring in music. After a year there she went to DePauw University, Greencastle, Indiana, where she graduated with her A.B. degree, majoring in dramatics and public speech. She did post graduate work at Butler and Cornell Universities.

While directing plays for the Universal Producing Co. for two years, she toured the United States and Canada. In 1932 the Lions club of Newmarket was sponsoring a play here. "I liked it in Newmarket and Jimmy (Bowman) was the only bachelor in the club so I married him. He was editor of the Express Herald at the time," Dorothy says.

Shortly after the couple moved to Toronto where Dorothy acted as secretary for the Canadian Industrial Engineering Co. of which her husband had become a partner. A year later she returned to Newmarket when Mr. Bowman accepted a position as salesman for the Colgate Palmolive Co. She has lived here since 1935 "except in the summer time when I spend most of my time at the lake".

When Dorothy's five-and-a-half year old daughter, Carol, was born, she was handicapped by deafness and blindness, and when Dorothy learned this she immediately set out to mould her daughter's life so that she might become as normal as possible. She took special courses at Denver University with special children including deaf, blind and spastic children, at Michigan State University with deaf and orthoepedic cases and at the California State School for the Blind at Berkley, Cal., teaching a class of deaf-blind children under the supervision of Inis B. Hall. She also studied language for the deaf at the University of California. At the present time Carol is an energetic, happy child, making good use of the small amount of vision and hearing she has acquired during the past three years.

Dorothy's success has been acclaimed by educationists in several journals and in radio broadcasts. Since then, she has been doing speech correction work with special children both individually and in the grade schools and she has given innummerable lectures.

Angel Cake A Specialty

"I enjoy acquiring knowledge and am happiest when I am able to make practical use of it," she says. "Domestically I specialize in angel cakes and chocolate or maple fudge but I definitely dislike last-minute preparations such as gravies."

She says that socially she prefers large groups of people having carefree fun, small groups in serious discussions, a foursome playing duplicate bridge or tennis doubles and a twosome playing chess, golf or ping-pong. "I prefer to read, write, sew, cook and fish alone," she says.

Athletically speaking, 13 appears to be Dorothy's number. She won the Ella Lyons Tennis Trophy this year after being runner-up for the past 12 years. With Joyce Bothwell she also won Newmarket open ladies' doubles tournament and the Aurora open ladies' doubles tournament. Aside from tennis, fishing, bowling, badminton and skiing are other sports in which she has engaged to a considerable extent. As a pianist she has always hoped to be the equal of her mother but she says she has never accomplished this aim. However, she has an orchestration which she wrote during high school days, on the margin of which her teacher suggested she make music her life's work.

Academic Life

Dorothy's activities in the world of drama have been recounted before but her constant activities in the academic world are not so familiar. She is a collector of educational toys, books and construction materials, subscribes to Outlook for the Blind and similar magazines and carries on extensive correspondence, including some in Braille, to former pupils in California. Among her souvenirs are a letter and a book, Out of the Dark, sent to her by Helen Kellar.

With all her other activities she still finds time to be "just a woman" who delights in sewing, especially fancy work, including an Italian cut-work and a dozen matching napkins, to which she devoted eight hours a day, five days a week until completed.

There are two main points in Dorothy's "code for adult living": be worthy of living peacefully and happily with one's self as well as with others, allowing one's powers of reasoning to stimulate one's life and activities rather than confine them; and, as for children, it is their right to have opportunities to develop to the extent of their capacities both physically and mentally.

FIRE IN TRACTOR THREATENS BARN

Newmarket — Firemen were called to the York County home Friday afternoon when a gasoline engine being used in threshing caught fire.

The engine was close to the barn and was used to supply power to the thresher. It was near a stack of straw when oil around the engine was ignited but it was moved away to a safe distance before the firemen arrived. The fire was easily extinguished with hand pumps.

Say you read it in the Era and Express.

Two-Week Deadline Set For Delivery Of Grader

Whitchurch council on Saturday listened to a delegation on a drainage problem at Wilcox Lake, then concluded that it was more or less a private matter and requiring the services of an engineer. The delegation urged the lowering of Wilcox Lake which this year is at the highest level in a long time and draining certain swampy areas to make the land available for more summer residents.

From Musselman's Lake, George Davies, proprietor of Cedar Beach Dance Gardens, congratulated council on its recent dance hall by-law and warned that there should be no discrimination in its application to all halls. He said there are 35 juke boxes in the township and from five to eight percent of dancing was to this kind of music.

"We are pleased to receive your congratulations," said Reeve Evans, "and we realize that there are faulty spots in the by-law but these will be straightened out and there will be no discrimination. The solicitor is delving into the matter right now." he concluded.

Vern Davies asked the council to provide the machinery for collecting costs from ratepayers on two new roads which they wished improved and for which the ratepayers are willing to pay all expenses.

Herb Beach and Ivan Pattenden, part time constables, are now off the list since their term is ended and council instructed the clerk to so notify them.

Demand Delivery Date

Eric Tidman, for the Caterpillar Company with which firm an order for a new maintainer was placed two years ago, was given two weeks to announce a definite delivery date, otherwise council warned that the order would be withdrawn and some other make of machine would be bought. Tidman promised to do his best to exact a delivery date from the company within the prescribed time. Cost of the grader and plow when the order was placed was $12,925. This is now increased by $2,472. it was noted.

"We are not to be made the goats," said Deputy-Reeve Logan. "If this firm cannot do something, let the council take action. The people demand it," he declared. Everybody agreed that two more weeks be allotted the company, as suggested by Reeve Evans.

The County of York asked council's consent to a proposed health unit by-law for the northern municipalities but it was not given at this time. Instead, the clerk was instructed to write the Ontario department of health about the matter. If a health unit is set up, each municipality will be assessed nine-tenth of a mill annually, but would have no further expenses in connection with health matters. The unit proposes to set up a permanent office for the northern municipalities, maintain three doctors, a battery of nurses and several inspectors. They would take over the duties of school nurses, medical officers of health and exert greater authority, they say, over health matters. Every rural school would be under the supervision of the unit which would be held responsible for the sanitation of schools, restaurants, lake resorts, etc., in the North York area.

Sheep-killing dogs damaged one animal for Stanley Mitchell, Ringwood, and killed another and for Hugh Canning, 6th concession farmer, killed one sheep. Canning was compensated $15 and Mitchell $13 on the valuation of J. A. Clarke.

Markham Agricultural Society was given a grant of $25 for the 1947 fall fair.

Reeve Evans looked serious when it was announced that $15.95 was spent for buying feed for pheasants and over $100 spent on erecting pens in the township. "A doubtful investment," said one of the members. Receipts from pheasant licenses may be more than used up meeting this expense which includes the costs of constables or wardens on the days of the annual hunt.

FINE ORCHARD

W.I. MEETING MARKS 90TH ANNIVERSARY

Wednesday evening, Sept. 10, was a happy occasion for the Women's Institute here. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Wood and Mrs. A. Lloyd and was a birthday celebration for Mrs. Albert Lloyd who was 90 years old on Monday, Sept. 15. Mrs. Lloyd has been a member of the W.I. for over 33 years and some time ago was honored with a life membership. Whitchurch General Rate Shows Three-Mill Increase

The general tax rate in the township of Whitchurch this year is advanced by three mills over 1946, it is indicated by the taxing by-law passed at a session of the council on Saturday at Vandorf. "If it is any comfort to our ratepayers, there is not a township in the county that will not have increased taxation this year over 1946," Reeve Lorne Evans commented.

The general rate including two-fifths of a mill for relief will be 13.2 mills, the county rate 4.6 mills. Treasurer John Crawford urged council to strike the general rate at 13.2 mills, otherwise he warned there might be a deficit. The fraction of a mill is the relief tax. He said that demands from the various school sections, over which council have no control, had advanced $10,000 in the past year, and a year ago, most of them showed higher costs over 1945. "In fact," said Mr. Crawford, "taxes this year alone have nearly doubled for public school purposes in Whitchurch." Increased salaries and higher maintenance costs are responsible, he said.

The total taxes to be collected this year will be $80,000.

The total mills set by council is 22.3 mills as against 19.1 in 1946. However this total rate will be increased according to the public school demands in each school section.

The county tax rate this year is 6.3 mills to raise $11,996, about the same as in 1946. The general tax rate is reduced by reason of the Ontario government subsidy to municipalities of one mill on the general rate.

While on taxation, the council approved of School Section No. 1 Union King spending $18,000 for additional class room accommodation and to wipe out a bank overdraft. The school is crowded, and King township had given their consent to the expenditures requested by the section which will bear the whole cost.

Visits W.I. In England

Mrs. Geo. Calver, who has been visiting her old home in England since June, has written home telling how she has visited several Women's Institutes over there which had received parcels sent from here to the county secretary of the Suffolk Women's Institute. In her travels, she met a couple of ladies who said they had visited Newmarket in 1926 and were sisters of Mr. A. E. Jarvis, Newmarket.

Mrs. Calver does not as yet know just when she can return but she will be able to tell us a great deal when she does arrive home.

The senior room of the public school, under Miss Campbell, has moved into the continuation school building in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Trench and Mr. and Mrs. Street of Richmond Hill were visitors on Tuesday of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Burr.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McGregor, Napanee, have been spending their honeymoon at Bruce Rolling's cottage, Lake Simcoe, after their marriage on Saturday, Sept. 8.

Miss Audrey Lapp leaves this month to go in training as a nurse at Toronto East General hospital.

For some time now the Women's Institute has been discussing taking up the Blue Cross Hospital Plan as a whole organization, so at their meeting this week Mrs. W. R. Steeper, chairman, and Mrs. G. W. E. Macpherson, as secretary-treasurer, were put in as an executive and members who wish to join may hand their names in at once. You must be a member of the W.I. for at least six months.

Marie Broad received a letter from Mr. H. J. Thompson, Port Carling, saying they liked their new home but would miss the school on the hill at Mount Albert. Marie is now attending Uxbridge high school as she was expected to go to school in her own county. She formerly came to Mount Albert.

Misses Mildred Dike and Isobel McIntosh, Toronto, left on Friday by motor for a holiday in New York City and other places along the way, expecting to be gone two weeks.

Mrs. Lyla Pearson, Cobourg, and Mrs. Philips, Toronto, have been holidaying at the home of Lapp.

Mr. and Mr. Wilson, Niagara Falls, N.Y., were weekend guests at the home of Mr. Wilson's brother, Mr. Robt. Wilson.

Sunday, Sept. 28, will be Rally Sunday at the United church. The time is 11 o'clock in the morning.

Dr. Lorne Stokes, Mrs. Stokes and John Stokes of Hanover were weekend visitors of Mrs. W. D. Stokes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Don Loach, Toronto, are spending a week fishing in the northern part of Haliburton.

Mrs. Herbert Wagg and baby of Markham spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Smith.

Miss Dorothy Shuttleworth was taken to York County hospital last week for an appendix operation.

Geo. Walsh has completed the basement of his new home on Alice St.

Mrs. Lily Cook is visiting relatives in Weston for a few weeks.

Mrs. W. Ross has returned home from visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Cook of Orillia.

Garage Entered

Morton Bros. garage on Main St. was broken into on Thursday night and thieves made away with a car, several radios, and a sum of money. The car was later found on Lemonville sideroad of the highway where it had been left out of gas.

LADY EATON'S GARDEN AT LAKE ROUSSEAU

By GOLDEN GLOW

I had a very pleasant letter recently from one of our Era and Express readers now living in U.S.A. and she asks if I have been having any more holiday adventures like the picnic supper at Musselman's Lake in the thunder storm. She asks if I have been taking any more trips—and if I have been away on holidays will I please write and tell about it.

She ended up saying "Please, Golden Glow, tell us more of your adventures for I cannot go myself so I enjoy your accounts of picnics and outings all the more, you see". In answer to that letter I'll tell you about a holiday spent in Muskoka this summer.

It was a very quiet holiday, no exciting adventures, just plain everyday enjoyment of nature in a beautiful spot, "The Canadian Inn" at Rosseau, about 20 miles northwest of Bracebridge. The Canadian Inn is set high up overlooking lovely Lake Rosseau and is situated about a mile from the village of Rosseau. Anybody going there by motor will find the roads good. The Canadian Inn does not cater to those who are "out for a good time", a noisy time, I should say. Peace and quietness reign and folks seeking that kind of a holiday are assured of it there.

There is good fishing near and golf and boating at Rosseau. The "Cherokee" calls regularly at the wharf at Rosseau, in fact it is the last port of call before the return trip, being at the very tip-top of the Muskoka Lakes. And if you want a trip on lovely Shadow River you get up a party of not less than five and take it in the Puddle Jumper.

Now there is a trip of quiet enjoyment! Just at sunset, we found, was the ideal time to take that trip for the shadows are at their best. The Puddle Jumper is a wide, flat-bottomed boat, more like a scow. It has wide, comfortable seats and the young college chap running it lets you enjoy the scenery in peace. He does tell you, however, to watch the "alligator". Somebody with a vivid imagination has put teeth in a log that sticks up in the water a little way out from the bank and the shadow makes it look like both jaws. The log is just the shape of an alligator's jaw and I hear it has had ever so many sets of teeth since the original ones!

There are many delightful motor trips to be taken if one has their own car. One day we went to a place on a little lake called The Trading Post. The owners have a little tourist camp on their property and have made everything very attractive with trees and swings and lawn chairs and bathing houses. But it is the store that is the main attraction and it was full of folks from the Other Side who were buying up things to take back home. They all want our famous blankets to take back. The little shop is full of delightful things, Indian work especially. There was a baby section full of dainty woolens, sports wear for summer and fall, gorgeous sweaters for every member of the family and there were beautiful samples of carving, very delicate in design, done by a Muskoka man during the winter. There are shops like that everywhere in Muskoka but this one seemed to me so unique, standing there in front of this little lake amid ideal surroundings. They were busy as beavers serving customers the day we were there.

Another day we went to see the wonderful estate of Lady Eaton a little way along the road. It was sold several years ago to Mr. Bartell who, I hear, rents the beautiful buildings to his friends for the summer and fall. It is a wonderful spot but is not kept up as in the days of Sir John and Lady Eaton when it kept 50 employees busy in the garden and estate. It would take too long to describe it as it deserves and my poor pen is not capable of it. But for sheer beauty of situation and improving on nature, that is the spot. Years ago, when we used to go to see Lady Eaton's garden at Eversley, King twp., on the shore of dear little Lake Marie, one of the gardners said to me "If you like this garden you should see the one Lady Eaton has up at Rosseau", and now, after all these years, the second world war intervening, I have been privileged to see it. The lodge at the gates is set behind wonderful pine trees from which the place derives its name, Kawandag, which means The Pines in Indian language. To the left as you go down the road are the huge stables and on the opposite side, the paddock with the hurdles, etc., for jumping and training the famous horses that once called that place home. There are shrubs and flower borders everywhere among the lovely pines and of course every other kind of tree. Wonderful roads and paths lead to various houses on the estate and in the centre is the lovely residence, set in beds of gorgeous flowers with a parterre on the side towards the lake which includes just everything. I can shut my eyes and see it again in all its loveliness.

The trees have been cleared away leaving a splendid clear view right across the lake and down to the lake is a long, splendid stairway made with an easy grade—with electric standards all the way—yes, and Perriwinkle or should I say Myrtle, and other trailing vines and flowers all the way along. At the foot of the staircase and a little to one side is the splendid wharf and boat houses and a cute little cove for bathing. A little way off shore is a light house—I always am intrigued when I see a light house for some unknown reason. On the flat rocks to the right hand of the wharf is a picnic spot. A table with attached benches, an urban fireplace with a supply of wood piled under a shelter. There is just everything there for the lucky folks who run it.

If you go along the picturesque path to the right, past another big building of some sort, you come to another little cove made into a delightful bathing place, so safe for children. Another cement stairway, not so imposing as the other but picturesque with its turns and platforms with benches to rest as you climb up, takes you to another lovely house on the top of the cliffs overlooking the lake and Rosseau wharf and village.

The walk back to the big house and the central road is banked with flowers. Coming back to the big house you can branch off and wander through the flower borders and see the delightful bird baths and sun dial. There's a big porcelain frog that reminded me of the turquoise blue turtles standing on the porch at Lady Eaton's home in Eversley. Another is a bird drinking fountain of a circle of frogs—the "frog chorus", some with banjos, some with sheets of music, etc. One dear little bird bath was a cupid leaning over a shell—it was so dainty, we all fell in love with it. I do not know if the general public is supposed to go through, but we asked permission, which was granted, else I could not be telling you of this delightful "adventure".

Attached to the house is a loggio—a portico with just beams for ceiling and it's an al fresco dining-room with marble-topped table and a sewing table along the side. Beside it is the Rose Garden (do you notice I put capital letters for that rose garden and it sure deserves it). Such roses! We just gasped and then broke into exclamations of delight!

You go through the rose garden, past the sun dial and under an arbor covered over with vines making a complete green ceiling, into the herb garden and beyond it the vegetable garden and so back to the main road. The residence looks so comfortable and so imposing and my American friends did so enjoy our morning visit there. That made it all the more pleasant for me for nothing on earth gives me more enjoyment than rambling in a lovely garden.

Dear me, Mr. Editor will think I expect to have the whole paper this week so I'll end up with just a few words about the weather while we were there. There were such wonderful moonlight nights and we liked nothing better of the last hour before retiring than sitting in the big easy chairs on the deep verandah overlooking the lake and watching the moonlight on the water. One day we went picking blackberries and in less than an hour we had two-quart-pails full of luscious berries so it was blackberry pie a la mode for dinner that night and berries and cream for lunch.

POTTAGEVILLE

Sunday morning service of Pottageville United church was held in the Sunday-school building as the church is being painted and decorated. Rev. C. E. The choir sang a selection, Sweet and Low, which was very well rendered.

FLOUR AND BREAD PRICES TO BE INCREASED

Government Withdraws Subsidy to Consumer

CANADIAN housewives will soon be asked to pay higher prices for flour. The Milling Industry of Canada would like to tell why.

Nearly six years ago the price of flour was fixed at the low prices then ruling, based on wheat costing 77⅜c per bushel when milled for use in Canada.

Since then, the price of wheat has advanced step by step, but the Government has paid the difference in the form of a consumer subsidy in order that you might buy flour and bread at no increase.

Wheat has actually risen to $1.58½ a bushel so that for some time past the Government has been paying more than half the full cost.

Now the Government has dropped the subsidy and the price Millers will pay for wheat through the Government Wheat Board will be more than double what it was originally. That is why the cost of flour will be increased.

Furthermore, the cost of bags, other supplies, labour and transportation has increased substantially during the control period.

Canadian Millers, however, knowing the importance of flour in the family diet pledge themselves to keep the price as low as they possibly can.

The prices of practically all ingredients in bread have also risen sharply and your Baker must take this into consideration when calculating his new prices.

BETHEL

The hum of the threshing machine is heard. The farmers are hustling their crops into the barns lest the weather change. Many have got their fall wheat sown and have started fall plowing.

Quite a number from this community attended Lindsay Fair last week and reported a large attendance and splendid fair.

Miss Nancy Huntley is attending Normal School in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McGregor and daughters of Toronto spent the weekend at their cottage on the eighth concession.

Glad to report Mr. Bert Owens, the barber, who suffered a stroke some time ago, is able to be up and around again.

The church floor has recently been painted and new matting put down which improved the appearance of the church and gives the interior a new and brighter look — thanks to those responsible for the work done.

Next Sunday, Sept. 21, at 7.30 p.m., the anniversary of Bethel church will be marked. Rev. T. V. Hart, Woodbridge, will be the speaker. It is hoped there will be a good attendance to welcome Mr. Hart, former pastor, back on this occasion.

Rev. E. Knechtel preached a stirring sermon Sunday. Sorry so few heard this splendid sermon. Let's each try to be at church and encourage the ministers of the Gospel whether it be at Bethel or some other house of worship.

PUBLIC MEETING ON QUEENSVILLE LIGHTS

The East Gwillimbury council held its regular monthly meeting in Sharon hall on Saturday, Sept. 6. Deputy-Reeve Alan Shaw was absent.

The council decided to purchase two parcels of land for dumping purpose. One parcel is situated toward the west and the other toward the east sides of the township.

The reeve, treasurer and road superintendent were authorized to make application to the department of highways for the road grant, on the expenditure from January 1 to August 31.

The council has called a meeting of the ratepayers of the village of Queensville to be held in Queensville school Wednesday, Sept. 24, at 8.30 p.m., to consider the cost of street lights.

The following tax rates have been levied for 1947: general school rate, 6.1 mills; county rate, 6.7 mills; township road rate, 10 mills; township general rate, 2 mills; relief and hospital, 1 mill.

The road rate is up over 1946 due to the heavy cost of snow removal, while the general rates are down.

Most schools show an increase in the amounts required to be levied.

Mr. Denne Bosworth, engineer for the town of Newmarket, gave an estimated cost of over $10,000 on laying a water main on Bolton and Lundy Aves. in the township.

The following accounts were passed for payment: W. E. King, re school audit, $85; county of York, hospital, $34.87; H.E.P.C., re hall, $4.05; Municipal World, supplies, $2.21; E. W. Campbell, supplies, $1.85; Albert Wilton, sheep claim, $58; W. H. Croutch, $3.50; J. L. Smith, salary, $140; J. E. Jardine, salary, $100; L. J. Farr, relief salary, $10; direct relief, $62.34;

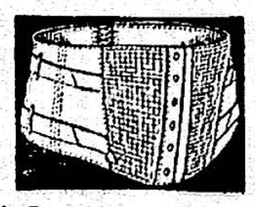

Road accounts: express, .40; sanding, $24; supplies, $5.66; repairs, $483.66; oil and fuel, $600.21; fuel tax, $22.44; weed spraying, $33; H.E.P.C., $6.30; insurance, $365.15.

The next regular meeting of the council will be held on Monday, Oct. 6, at the hour of 10 a.m.

DIXON-ROGERS RITES SEPT. 12

In St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, Sept. 13, the marriage took place of Barbara Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Rogers, to Mr. Robert Marshall Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon, all of Newmarket. Dr. Roy Boudreau officiated, Miss Mae Patterson was at the organ, and Miss Lois Geer, cousin of the groom, was soloist.

A gown of white satin with off-shoulder neckline was worn by the bride. Her long mitts were also white satin, and a satin halo held her long veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Given in marriage by her father, she was attended by her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Gracie, matron of honor, wearing fuchsia imported Swiss cream jersey. Miss Peggy Webb was bridesmaid in nile green. Their halo hats were trimmed with ostrich tips, and they carried matching nosegays in pink and fuschia.

Mr. Murray Dixon was groomsman for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. John Carr and Mr. Donald McBride.

The reception was at the home of the bride's parents, and later the couple left for Haliburton. They will live in Toronto.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Manser, Miss Jacqueline Manser, Mr. and Mrs. H. Carr, Mr. John Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Ken. Gracie, Mrs. O. P. Hamilton, Miss Jean Hamilton, Mrs. Norine Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Hickson, Miss Lonore Allan, Reg. N., Miss Frances Louer, Reg. N., Miss Gloria Peppiatt, Reg. N., all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Jeff. Johnstone, Langstaff, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Patterson, Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall, Aurora.

Diocesan Board Of W.A. Meets at St. Paul's

The monthly meeting of the diocesan board of the woman's auxiliary of the Anglican church was held in St. Paul's parish hall and church last Thursday. The session began at 10.30 a.m. with the new diocesan president, Mrs. Britton Osler, in the chair. Dr. Mabel Cartwright, the retiring president, was here also and at the close of the session she was presented with the dozen roses which adorned the officers' table on the platform on behalf of the Newmarket branch.

Dr. Cartwright retired last June after many years of faithful service as head of the diocesan W.A. The parish hall was filled to capacity in spite of the intense heat. Rev. George Nicholson of the Arctic gave an address at the afternoon session on his work in the far north. Mrs. Nicholson gave the address last year at the deanery meeting in St. James church, Sutton, so it was particularly interesting to our deanery members to hear more of their work. The members of the board were loud in their praise of the facilities of St. Paul's to accommodate such a number as were present, and complimented the Newmarket branch on the smooth way the work was carried out.

SEEK TOWN SURVEY BY W. S. GIBSON, SON

Aurora—Following representation to Aurora town council on Monday evening, a motion will be presented to council at the October meeting authorizing W. S. Gibson and Son, surveyors, to determine certain street lines in Aurora not already determined and to place proper memorials.

It was pointed out by certain property-owners how costly it was under present conditions to obtain a survey of most property in Aurora. With several street lines not being properly marked, it also meant a longer job, and many surveyors, except those who had done considerable work in the town of Aurora, were loathe to undertake a survey in view of the time involved.

Remembrance Service On Nov. 11th Holiday

Aurora—Under the auspices of Aurora branch 385, Canadian Legion, and the municipal council, a Remembrance Day Service will be held on November 11. Proclaimed a holiday earlier in the year by the Aurora council, the service and parade this year is expected to be a large one.

At their first fall meeting last week, a committee composed of Rev. R. K. Perdue (chairman), Dennis Storry, Grover Gage, Norman Bretz and William Waite was appointed by the Legion to work out the details. The Saturday previous to Remembrance Day will be Poppy Day in Aurora, and the Legion committee in charge of arrangements is headed by John Murphy. Proceeds from the sale of poppies goes towards the Legion's benevolent fund.

LEGION NEWS

Features of the drumhead service, which is being sponsored by the Newmarket Canadian Legion at the Lions club park on Sunday, Sept. 28, will be the Newmarket Citizens' band, St. Andrew's Girls' Pipe band, Toronto, and the Queen's York Rangers' Brass band.

In August the St. Andrew's Girls' Pipe band at the Highland Games in Halmilton, won all the rewards for piping and drumming. The Queen's York Ranger Brass band played at the North Band Stand daily at the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

A color party from headquarters and one from each of the nine legion branches in the district will parade and all veterans are invited to join in the parade which will assemble at the Stuart Scott school at 2 o'clock. In the event of rain the service will be held indoors.

In Memoriam

Atkinson—In loving memory of a dear wife, Mary Kathleen Longhurst Atkinson, who passed away September 13, 1946.
God knows how much I miss her,
Never shall her memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where she is laid.
Fondly remembered by her loving husband George.

Haines—In loving memory of a loving husband and dear daddy, Capt. John W. Haines, who passed away Sept. 16, 1916.
As long as I live I will cherish his name,
In memory I see him just the same;
Still in my heart he is living yet,
For I loved him too dearly to ever forget.
His weary hours and days of pain,
His troubled nights are passed;
And in our aching hearts we know
He has found sweet rest at last.
Always remembered by wife Ruby and children Johnnie, Marilyn, Nancy and Susan.

Haines—In loving memory of a dear son and brother John Wesley Haines, who passed away in Christie St. hospital, September 16, 1916.
His weary hours and days of pain
His troubled nights are past.
And in our aching hearts we know
He has found sweet rest at last.
Sadly missed and ever remembered by his mother, step-father and brothers.

Knott—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother who passed away September 19, 1932.
Our thoughts wander as daylight fades,
To a land of long ago.
And memory paints the scenes of old
In the gold of the twilight glow.
We seem to see in the soft dim light
A face we loved the best,
And think of her when the sun's last ray
Goes down in the far-off West.
Lovingly remembered by husband and daughters Vera, Maude and Marjorie.

Morton — In loving memory of our father, James E. Morton, who passed away, September 4, 1943.
What would we give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see;
To hear his voice and see his smile
That meant so much to us.
We often think of days gone by,
When we were all together;
A shadow o'er our lives has cast
Our loved one gone forever.
Ever remembered by Norma and Melvin, Saskatoon, Joe and Bruce.

Prest — In loving memory of Sgt. Bruce Prest, R.C.A.F. Dearest son and "only child" of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prest; accidentally killed September 20, 1944, while home on leave. In his 26th year.
Dear son we think of you today
We watched you grow to manhood
With pride and tender care.
Your passing left us dull with pain
And filled with dark despair.
But He who heals all sorrow
And wipes away all tears
Has promised in his message
We'll meet again my dear.
So until He calls us
We will walk with you each day.
In our garden of beautiful memories
Fathered along the way.
You always seem so near us
We see your tender smile
And the voice we loved keeps whispering
Don't grieve my dears, it's just for a little while.
Sadly missed. Mother and dad.

Selby—In loving memory of my dear husband, Wellington B. Selby, who passed away, September 20, 1940.
A beautiful memory dearer than gold
Of a husband whose worth can never be told.
Alone, unseen, he stands by my side
And whispers, "Don't grieve, death cannot divide."
Thou art but on Christ's other side,
Thou art with Christ and Christ with me;
In Christ united still are we.
Lovingly remembered by his wife Edith.

Selby—In loving memory of our dear father, Wellington B. Selby, who died September 20, 1940.
Seven years ago today our father was called
To his eternal rest;
Gone where the angels sing so sweet,
And taken when God knew best.
We miss him here so very much,
His presence oft seems nigh,
But we all hope in Heaven to meet,
Where no one says good-bye.
Always remembered by his children Leonard, Doris and Albert.

Home & School Prepares For Busy Season Ahead

Newmarket—The officers and executive of the Newmarket Home and School Association spent Tuesday at the summer home of Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards at Keswick. An enjoyable day was had by all and much enthusiasm was shown in the plans for the coming year.

It was suggested that a cooking demonstration precede each monthly meeting and that all members of the association would hand in a recipe at each meeting. These recipes would eventually be incorporated into a recipe book which would be sold to raise funds to aid in the work of the association.

"Much more interest should be shown this year in religious education and citizenship," said Mrs. Edwards. It was planned to devote an evening to each subject and if possible to include a lively discussion group which would enable all to participate.

Plans were made to hold the annual dinner for the entrance class and to have in the near future an Open House social evening where the parents and new teachers could become acquainted.

"In view of the increased feeling of co-operation which exists between parents and public school teachers as a result of their associations through the Home and School," said Mrs. Edwards, "it is hoped that this year we might lay the foundation of a Home and School Association in the secondary school.

The sponsoring of a course of instruction in leather work will be another project of the Home and School Association this year.

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

The Change in Peggy

Peggy, age six years, is responding beautifully to the common sense treatment she now receives. When the Children's Aid discovered Peggy two years ago, she was a miserable little waif, both in appearance and attitude. She had been cruelly neglected and was suffering from malnutrition, resulting in rickets, and running sores covering her frail body and there were scabs in her matted, dirty hair. Her little mind was warped; she was simply a frightened little savage—because she lacked the security of a good home.

A good home was found for Peggy and the transformation in her physical being and mental outlook has been amazing. Under medical care, her little body was healed and strengthened. With understanding and loving care from her foster parents, she has become a dear, patient, appealing little girl—ever ready to please and grateful for everything.

Peggy is learning a great many things in her happy surroundings. One of her important duties is running errands. She takes a list to the store and brings home the groceries — usually only two or three items each trip. The other day she was gone a very long time and when she did return, her little arms were loaded with groceries. Peggy had a long story to tell about how she lost the list and looked and looked and looked for it, then found it—the list happened to be some one else's list. The humor of the situation didn't blind Peggy's benefactors to the fact that this was an ideal time for a lesson in the care necessary in delivering messages.

One by one Peggy carried the parcels back to the store. Peggy won't forget this lesson and will be more careful in the future. Discipline shouldn't be omitted, but, by all means, should be suited to the deed. The important thing is to teach the child those things he should know so mistakes won't be repeated. That is only common sense treatment — for which there is no substitute.

The North York GARDENER

By JOHN DALY
Vice President, Newmarket Horticultural Society

The days of midsummer's comparative leisure are over and from now until the weather stops our activities, every minute will be needed to get things done. Earlier darkness makes it more difficult for those of us who have to work for a living.

What is to be done? Why, take up perennials that are getting too big, divide and replant them; plant bulbs for our spring garden; correct the mistakes of the past summer.

Plants that were growing in the wrong place should be taken up now and replanted where they will do better or look better. Most summer flowering perennials can be divided and replanted now. The later flowering plants such as the hardy 'mums are better moved in the spring. Most spring flowering bulbs can be planted now. Grape Hyacinths, of course, should be in the ground and making their fail growth now. This also applies to Madonna Lilies.

The Mainstays

Tulips and Narcissus are the mainstay of the spring garden and these should be going into the ground now. The earlier the better, although tulips will do quite well planted anytime until the ground is frozen over. The most popular of these are the late May flowering types. The Darwins, Cottage and Breeder used to be quite distinct but now they are so intermingled that it's difficult to tell them apart and to all intents and purposes, it's just as well to grow the varieties you like. These are beautiful grouped in clumps of one color in the perennial border. For mass bedding, the single and double early types make a wonderful showing. These are shorter, being 12" to 14" high on an average. They flower earlier, about two weeks, than the tall varieties.

Becoming more popular are three newer types, Mendel, Triumph and Double late flowering, sometimes called peony flowered. The first two are long stemmed varieties or I should say species, flowering about ten days earlier than the Darwins with large flowers and strong, straight stems, thus increasing the flowering season considerably. The Double Late flower bloom at the same time as the Darwins and are just as tall. They will be in every garden when they are better known.

There are too many beautiful tulips, I'm afraid, to start recommending names as it would probably result in an all-night session writing them. If anyone would like suggestions, I'll be glad to pass along some if they will let me know what type they are interested in. Tulips are not too particular about soil. Any good, well drained soil will produce excellent results. The depth to plant them depends on the soil, deeper planting being recommended for light soils. From four to six inches deep in heavy soil and six to eight inches in medium soils. Always remember when reading planting instructions four inches deep means four inches of soil on top of the bulbs. Oh yes, six inches apart will be satisfactory.

I forgot to mention the Parrots, those novelty tulips that flower with the Darwins. Formerly there was only one variety that was reliable but lately there are new names being introduced and quite a number of reliable varieties are now on the market at reasonable prices. If you want something different, try the Parrot species. They are the original wild tulips from various parts of the world. Most of them flower early, in April. Most of them have small flowers though some are larger. One is the largest tulip of all and also the brightest in color. They vary from three to 20 inches in height and the bulb sizes vary from the size of a plate to the size of regular tulips. Some have a number of flowers on one stem.

I'll have to continue this talk on spring flowering bulbs next week but before closing I want to mention the peony. This is the month to plant them and don't plant them more than two inches deep.

LIBRARY CORNER

By CAROLINE E. ION

Of the rash of books, memoirs, 'now-it-can-be-tolds," etc., that have come out of the war and following peace, Three Came Home by Agnes Newton Keith stands in a place apart. An Atlantic Monthly press book, published by Little, Brown and Company, Boston, it is available at the Newmarket public library.

With the coming of the Japanese to Borneo, the Keith family, Agnes, Harry and their two-year-old son, George, was subsequently imprisoned. Although they were supposedly internees, in actuality they were prisoners of war. This story of their existence during captivity which lasted from May of 1942 until September, 1945, is one of a faith based on family love and a hope for the future which rested in their child.

The horror, hate and brutality of those endless years at Kuching are here as is the unconquerable spirit of a woman who endured it all and yet was able to write with no conscious prejudice of her captors.

The ever selfless sharing of the children and the guidance and comfort of the kind-hearted Sisters gave the others the added strength to live through this degradation of human life.

Sketches by Don Johnston and the authoress illustrate the many episodes which are included.

This is a book which should make even the most thoughtless of us thankful for our homes and daily comforts and the most thoughtful of us less flippant in our discussions of the next war and more spiritually aware of the true meaning of freedom and world peace.

WED AT PRESTON LAKE

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

Offhand you might say that there is no connection between having a hobby and being successful in your work.

But all of us need the relaxing effect of a hobby to counter-balance the strain of hard work.

"Fun is a tonic," says Dr. G. S. Stevenson, eminent mental hygiene authority. "It refreshes us when we are tired or bored with our routine tasks—gives us new strength and enthusiasm for the business of living."

If you have no particular hobby, such as fishing, gardening or photography, you will be well advised to choose one. Or if you indulge in a hobby only rarely, you ought to devote time to it more regularly.

As a result, you'll be happier and probably healthier. And you'll surely do a better job!

P.S. An acquaintance of mine made wooden trays as a hobby. They were so handsome that many of his friends wanted to buy them and soon he had a flourishing full-time business. Such cases are not uncommon.

• • •

You'll enjoy life even more with the peace of mind that life insurance brings. It has provided for the future security of millions of Canadians since 1847.

ONE FOR RIPLEY

This "thing" which Marilyn Kydd, Pefferlaw, is holding and which is also shown in insert is an egg, believe it or not. Lloyd Kydd, father of Marilyn, brought it to The Era and Express office recently. He said it was the first he had seen of its kind. He said that he has seen little ones and flat ones but none like this. Mrs. Kydd saw a Light Sussex hen lay it unconcernedly. It is about two inches and three-quarters of an inch in diameter. We have it in the office if you don't believe the picture. Photos by Budd.

Vets Break Jinx To Even Spillette Series

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

Newmarket Vets and Langstaff resumed their feuding for the North Yonge championship at Langstaff last Friday. The Vets, to be sure, piled up a 9-0 margin over the five-innings stretch but the tilt went into the record books as "no contest", the game being called at the end of the fifth. As the final games must go seven innings, the game will have to be replayed.

In this one, the McDonald men came to life at the plate in a big way. They smashed the old apple to all corners of the Langstaff ball orchard. In all, they pounded out 11 safe blows off Bill Bowen. "Joint" McComb was at his best for the Newmarket forces, handcuffing the Yonge St. crew to one single safety over the route. McComb came very close to duplicating his earlier season no-hit game but left-fielder Russell spoiled it with his second innings single.

Only once did Langstaff threaten to break the shut-out. This was in the first inning. McComb walked four but Charlie VanZant cut down Army Armstrong at the plate when the latter attempted to cash in on a passed ball.

As a matter of record, the Vets tallied it in all but one inning, the second. They romped home with three in the initial frame to take command. They boosted their total with two runs in the third, fourth and fifth.

First sacker Moe Walsh was the big gun with the willow, having himself a field night at the expense of Bill Bowen with a triple, a double and a single. Centre-fielder Harv Gibney was back in the hitting groove, collecting two singles in three appearances at the dish.

DOWN THE CENTRE

By AB HULSE

WITH THE GUTTED STICK ARTISTS

Orchids to Maple Lacrosse club which, for the second straight year, won the Jack Smith trophy emblematic of the North York lacrosse title. As in 1946 the Buds faced opposition from Woodbridge in the final but took the series three straight. Here are the champs, all of whom played well: goal, Pete Rumble and Art Honre; def., Harry Cooper, Alvin McNair, Gordy Orr, Allan Orr, Dick Taylor; forwards, Stan Foster, Ken White, Bill Parks, Jimmy Jones, Tom Armitage, Harvey Wilson, Lorne Wells, Roy Thompson, Bruce Jones and B. Holmes.

Armitage, White and the Jones brothers all played junior lacrosse last year. Once again Cal and Mike Miller were at the helm directing traffic and generally keeping the lads inspired. It was a good year for the team financially and they will shortly have a big jamboree to celebrate the win. Richmond Hill and Woodbridge youngsters are battling it out for the North York midget championship.

On the subject of lacrosse, did you notice that Doug Gillespie, Owen Sound, well remembered in Aurora for his feats with Orangeville juniors back in 1938 against Aurora, won the O.L.A. scoring championship? Gillespie was also voted by the fans at the Sound as the most popular player with the Georgians. Rusty White, Fergus, former Richmond Hill lacrosse player and Aurora hockeyist and baseballer, is rated right now as the leading referee in lacrosse in Ontario. White will likely get a nice trip to the coast this year as the boxla boys swing west for the Mann Cup finals. As we write this, Don Willson, former Newmarket winger and Aurora-Bradford lacrosse player, appears to stand a good chance of being on a Mann Cup winner once again as Mimico Mountaineers, led by that little package of dynamite, Ike Hildebrand, led St. Catharines in the O.L.A. final series. Inglewood, which won the local senior B lacrosse group, is standing by for the play-offs but no one concedes them a chance for the championship. Fergus with Bradford's Don McKenzie, who won in 1946, and Orillia are the favored teams. Actually Inglewood has done no worse than break even with Fergus over the year. Orillia in exhibition games as well as Midland has pasted the teams from the local group tastefully over the season.

Jim Burrell, sports columnist of the Peel Gazette, Brampton, paid a swell tribute to the memory of the late Pete Machell a few weeks ago which we have not had a chance to mention before. Here are some of the quotes in brief: "Unlike some athletes we have known, Pete Machell never was the least conceited about his hockey and lacrosse reputation" . . . "Gritty and game as they come, Frank Machell high-lighted every contest". A quote is repeated from the Toronto Star of late 1930, "Pete was astonishingly accurate as he drove his shots on the Weston net and he remains the only man we have seen who could spin around three times on a half dollar and shoot the ball into a tea cup at 100 yards". No words of ours can add to those phrases.

ODDS 'N ENDS

Frank Hewitt, formerly on the big time wrestling circuit, now working on the smaller circuits, hails from Ringwood, a fact not generally known by mat addicts. Ringwood is in York county near Stouffville, if you don't know your geography. Nip Armstrong, former King City-Aurora high athlete, middle-aisled it last Saturday at Maple with the former Helen Cousins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert "Cuddy" Cousins. Another victim to the bow and arrow of Dan Cupid is Mickey Sutton, hustling young all-round Aurora athlete who tied the knot recently with Miss Margaret Kennedy, Richmond Hill.

Markham not only represented the district in the midget O.B.A. but in the bantam series as well. Doug James and Grant Nighswander saw their wee mites battle it out with Collingwood and lose the odd game in three. The scores were: 19-16, 25-5 and 19-10. A total of 94 runs between the two teams in three games, which must set a record of some sort. Porky Schell, fine young pitcher of Stouffville juniors, handled the entire pitching assignment in the series against Bowmanville and pitched good enough in each game to win them all in place of one in the best of three. The scores were 7-2 (Stouffville); 12-0 (Bowmanville) and 6-4 (Bowmanville). The rubber match was played at Sunderland and poor outfielding cost the series to the district representatives. Yorky Smith will be able to field practically the entire team next year and already the boys have their eyes on the future. Watch Wrack, owned by Earl Rowe, who lost the King's Plate because of an injured hoof, finished second in the Canadian Derby at Winnipeg. His showing indicated that the horse can be watched from here at the mutuels. Harry Couse was selected as top hurler in the South Simcoe softball league following the win of Cookstown over Stroud in the finals. Included in the league all-stars were Jimmy Johnston, Stroud, a veteran who played for Allandale Imperials in the old days against Newmarket, Jim Bowman, Stroud, who played hockey for Bradford juniors last winter, and Bill Boychoff, Lefroy, who likewise was in action on the ice for Fred Collings' team. Joe Megani, who played hockey for Newmarket Hoffmans last winter, was ticketed as the second choice third baseman in the eight-club league. Nip Spooner, who played softball with Aurora R.C.O.C. a couple of years ago, topped the choices for short-stop in the Collingwood town league all-star choices. Spooner hit .345 over the regular season. Ken Guilfoyle, Barrie, who will be remembered by the older softball fans as the ace pitcher of Barrie Roxy Aces in the early 30's, has turned up in Peterboro this season and has pitched the K. of C. team at the lift-lock city to the city championship. Marj McCarnan and her playmates of the Dorst team flew last week to Phoenix, Arizona, for the new outlaw circuit's world softball series. Highlands golfers are getting around these days. Larry Molyneaux and Bill Fry competed in the O.G.A. champions matches at the Lakeview club last week. Fry replaced Bill Sherwood who couldn't make the grade. Both Molyneaux and Fry were off their games and posted 36-hole scores of 171 and 191 respectively. Not good enough to get in the money. Both Molyneaux and Eric Bilbrough competed in another O.G.A. tournament at Brantford this week and made a better showing. Mrs. Jack Browning gave the Highlands fine representation in the Ontario Ladies' Open golf championship at the Toronto course this week. This is the sort of competition needed by Aurora golfers and it is to be hoped another year there will be more representation at the bigger golf events in Ontario.

OYEZ! OYEZ! IT'S HOCKEY ON DECK

Despite the heat and humidity, you may as well get used to fact that hockey is just around the corner. Already most of the pro teams have reported for practices or will do so within a few days. Scotty Mair is at St. Catharines with the Maple Leaf's early school. Hughie, who performed with Tulsa Oilers last season, is not likely to crash the big time line-up but should be due for a certain starting post with the Pittsburgh Hornets who will be coached by Bob Davidson this winter. Walter Zuke, who played with Stratford last winter and in 1944 was with Newmarket camp, is reported ready to leave his native Soo for one of the teams in the Pacific coast league. Bill Mundell, Aurora, and Howard Forgie, Markham, both sent wires home at the weekend to announce their safe arrival in Scotland. The Scottish hockey league will top all leagues on the North American continent in early starting.

Joint McComb leaves on Saturday next for Port Arthur for pre-season training with St. Louis Flyers. This season should be an important one in the McComb career. A big year and he could still hit the N.H.L. Another spent indifferently and his big chance is gone. Ossie Carnegie, colored hockeyist who used to play junior lacrosse for Thornhill, will do his puck chasing in Paris, France, this winter. Manny McIntyre, another dark cloud, will be in Gay Paree too, and probably brother Herb Carnegie. The three colored boys played as a line in Sherbrooke last winter. Incidentally, the Carnegie family, who at one time resided at Willowdale and were active in North York politics, are the guardians of that young boxing star, Lil' Arthur King. Sonny Rowntree may be seen this winter in the uniform of Marlboros Seniors. The Woodbridge lacrosse star who has played fine hockey for Humber Summit the past two years is ready to bear down as never before. Jimmy O'Hearn, who used to play for Midland in the local O.H.A. group and last winter was with Hamilton Pats, will perform for Moncton Hawks this winter.

WILL PLAY IN AURORA

Newmarket men's softball team and Langstaff will play the final game for the North Yonge St. championship and the J. L. Spillette trophy on Saturday at 3 p.m. in Aurora.

TANK DEMONSTRATES BATTLE POSITIONS

On Sunday, beneath a sunny blue sky, C squadron of the 25th Armored Regt., Q.Y.R., wheeled and roared over the rolling pasture land of Frank Williams on the second concession of King.

An estimated crowd of 200 witnessed the demonstration during the course of the afternoon. Among those present were Lieut. Col. Meldram, Major C. W. Keslick, second in command of the regiment in Toronto; Major N. F. Johnson, former commander of C squadron; Mr. Williams, to whom the squadron is indebted for the use of his farm for training purposes, and many other former armored corps men.

During the course of the demonstration the public was shown the tank taking up battle positions while a running commentary was given by a member of the squadron. A constant contact was maintained with the tank by wireless.

After the demonstration was over, visitors were invited to ride in the tank and at one point 13 young children were riding in the tank which normally carries five men.

Three new recruits have been accepted into the squadron. They are: Sgt. Henry Starkey, former armored corps man; Tpr. Don Stephenson, former A.H.S. cadet officer, and Richard Pattison. There are still vacancies open for young men who are interested in taking up wireless, driving gunnery and general tank maintenance.

Another demonstration will be held in the near future. There is to be a women's auxiliary meeting on Thursday evening at 8 p.m. and all those interested are requested to be present.

ON THE ALLEYS

Smith's alleys are still under reconstruction, but the Bowlaway at the north end has seen increased activity since we have had some cooler weather. By the number of people trying to get alleys the last couple of nights, it looks like the bowling season has really started.

Davis Leather Indies had their first night last Wednesday from 7-9 p.m. Everybody had a lot of fun but scores were a little under par. When they start rolling 'em next week we will report scores.

Next Thursday night the men of the Office Specialty start at the north end. There have been rumors that a ladies' Catholic church league will be organized shortly. When the town ladies get going, they probably will be bowling in the afternoons. Davis men start next Tuesday night.

It looks like this is going to be a big bowling year. There are signs promising enthusiastic bowling and we hope to be reporting some high scores.

LOSE FINALS

The Newmarket girls tried their best but Sarnia had the edge and defeated them 9-1 in Sarnia Saturday in the second game of the P.W.S.U. finals.

DOUBLES TOURNAMENT

The Newmarket Lawn Bowling club tournament for fowl, men's doubles, club members only, will be held on Friday at 7 p.m. Any member wishing to participate phone your name to Larry Bell in advance so draw can be made.

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

Yes sir! The Vets have come through with flying colors. The series is tied. Newmarket Vets, counted down and out by many of the district softball fans after sustaining three straight defeats at the hands of the hustling Langstaff squad, have rebounded back into the contention in a big way. They evened up their play-off series with the Yonge St. lads and did it with an impressive 4-0 win at Pantry Park Tuesday evening. The series now stands at two games each. Saturday afternoon will tell the tale as the teams go back at each other at Aurora town park in the deciding game. "Ceegars" McDonald and his battling crew will be in there pitching to retain the J. L. Spillette Trophy, emblematic of the North Yonge championship.

It was the shut-out hurling of "Joint" McComb that set the men of McDonald on their way to even the series. McComb served up a fast ball that the invaders couldn't touch. McComb struck out nine while allowing Langstaff only three hits. Only once, in the seventh when Army Armstrong, Langstaff's backstopper, reached third on a single and a couple of passed balls, did Langstaff appear to have a chance to score. That was as far as he got, as McComb erased the next three, one after the other, sending them down swinging.

The Vets put a run over in the third to open the scoring, Catcher Chuck VanZant getting a life as short-stopper Sonny Charles momentarily bobbled his ground ball. Normie Legge dropped a short lift back of second that went of a hit. By the time it was retrieved, VanZant had scampered home and Legge was resting at the midway station. Mickey Smith then grounded out to close the innings. As matters shaped up, this would have been sufficient to win for the McDonald clan but to make it easier for McComb, the Vets bombarded Bowen for a further three runs in the sixth. Mickey Smith led off this frame with an infield bingle. Then with two out, Freddie Evans was safe on second baseman LaRocque's error and Harvey Gibney was put on the basepaths when Norm Bowen dropped a throw to first. Mickey Smith dashed home on this miscue. Doug Eves sounded the death knell to Langstaff's hope by stepping in for his second single that cashed in Evans and Gibney.

It was not a hitters' night by any means. Doug Eves, Sharon's gift to the Vets, topped the hitters with two singles. Third sacker Freddie Evans checked in with the hardest hit of the evening, a long triple into right field, but just scampered back to third in time when he tried to stretch it into a circuit blow. Normie Legge had a double that drove in the first Vet run and Mickey Smith cashed in with a single.

On the other side of the ledger, Russell, Armstrong and Healy chipped in with the three Langstaff hits, all singles.

Summary:

Langstaff	0	0	0	0	0	0
	0 runs	3 hits	3 errors	5 left
Newmarket	0	0	1	0	0	3	x

DIVE FOR SAFETY

Unless you can dive, when you go in for a swim, you should certainly hold your nose as you take to the water feet-first for water forced up into the nostrils can carry infection to nose, throat and sinuses. Man isn't like the duck, which can close its nostrils under water. And, unlike the duck, human beings haven't the special eyelid which protects the eyes under water, so swimmers should try to see when submerged as rarely as possible.

Soot and scale in the furnace or boiler cost money, advises the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating. Chimneys and furnaces should be cleaned out during the summer, to save fuel bills.

More than 11,600 warm air furnaces were manufactured in Canada during the first quarter of 1947.

Orillia Stages Great Try For 11th Inning Victory

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

Two of the top-flight intermediate "B" softball clubs of the province hit town Wednesday to stage the third and deciding contest in their current semi-final series. Orillia "White Grill" and New Toronto "Legion" put on one of the most thrilling games witnessed at Pantry Park in many a moon.

The Orillians staged a great comeback, after being down 9-0 at the end of the third, to take down a 12-11 win. It took 11 innings to settle the issue.

With Orillia trailing 9-0 at the end of the third, most of the fans and the New Toronto squad didn't give the northerners much of a chance of copping the game. Orillia, however, had other ideas. They went to work on "Lefty" Venner, New Toronto's ace, and fought their way back and lo and behold had tied the count at 11-11 at the end of the regulation nine innings.

Both sides went out in the tenth without breaking the deadlock. New Toronto loaded the sacks in the eleventh with but one away. "Cec" Robinson, Orillia third pitcher in the tilt, got the next two to end the threat. Orillia came in, Kane tripling to open the eleventh but was out at the plate trying to stretch it into a homer. Wright singled and "Moose" Turnbull, Orillia's back stopper, dropped down a bunt and when Venner tossed wild to first, Wright came all the way home from first to win the game and series.

It was a great night for the hitters. Orillia had 20 hits, New Toronto 19. Both clubs brought along plenty of fans to lend moral and vocal support. The Newmarket fans turned up in large numbers and enjoyed the proceedings, seeming to favor Orillia with their vocal support.

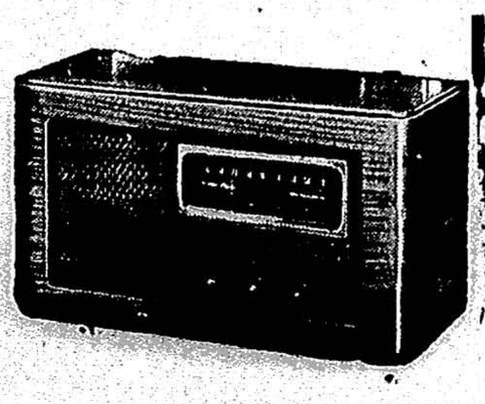

HANDCRAFT GROUP RESUMES ACTIVITIES

The Handcraft Group has once again resumed its Wednesday evening meetings at the Veterans' Dug-Out. The first meeting saw many new faces present and last evening, Sept. 17, the classes of instruction in weaving, knitting, crocheting, smocking and glove-making commenced. Anyone who is interested in handcraft work is welcome.

Mrs. Ted Mitchell, president of the group, says "it is hoped that eventually it will be possible to form evening classes under the department of education where instruction in sewing and many other crafts could be taught. However, that must wait until the foundation for such a class has been laid and the people of Newmarket show that they actually want such classes."

Over 31 belts, wove by members of the group, have been sent from Newmarket to Quebec and several of the ladies have woven more than 50 belts on their looms. Using the Cooper loom, two baby blankets and sixteen place mats have been woven to date and at present knitting bags are being completed. Many beautiful plaid and plain wool scarves have been woven on the cradle looms of the handcraft group.
